

Expansion packs such as on dressing etiquette where the board map shows places of different settings which require a certain dress code.

More ways of dealing with others can also be introduced

Minority group and uncommon ethnicity expansion packs will be released.

Adaptations to other important life skills such as time management will also be introduced

YEAR

2020

2021

2022

2023

2024

A physical board and card game which contain cards, game board sets and dice. A player can win the game by obtaining the most number of points by making the right choices
If he makes the wrong choice, he loses points
The correct answer is suggested at the game guide

A more lite and understandable version can be released for the younger users and also for portability

An App based game which allows real time gameplay with another person of another country will be released for mobile devices